

NEWS FROM PEACEHAVEN

May 2021

WORKING BEE

After the success of our January working bee, at which we made spectacular progress with establishing the garden at the nursery (see 'now' pictures, right), we've decided to hold another.

The working bee will be at the Peacehaven Native Nursery on Monday 17 May, starting at 9 am.

All Friends of Peacehaven are welcome, but please be sure to let us know you're coming.

Tasks are likely to include:

- potting up
- plant maintenance
- fertilising
- collecting seeds and cuttings
- pot washing
- general maintenance.

Please wear enclosed shoes and sensible clothing, and bring a hat. Morning tea will be provided.

RSVP: peacehaven3@gmail.com

PROGRESS IN THE GARDEN

What was bare earth a year ago is becoming a flourishing garden, thanks to members' hard work.

MUSIC IN THE PARK

What better way to celebrate Mother's Day, Sunday 9 May, than with a picnic at Peacehaven – and with Music in the Park.

Come and hear Brisbane-based band Bubblefry, who will entertain you between 1 pm and 3 pm.

TAVERN TALK

At this month's Tavern Talk, agronomist Paul McIntosh will talk about targeted pest control. He will focus on strategies to avoid having to spray, but also how, if spraying is unavoidable, it can be done in a safe and carefully targeted way.

Date: Thursday 13 May
Time: 6 pm for a 7 pm presentation (dinner and drinks at your own expense)
Place: Highfields Tavern
Bookings: peacehaven3@gmail.com

NEXT MEETING OF FRIENDS

The management committee will meet in May, and the next General Meeting will be in June.

Date: Wednesday 9 June
Time: 10 am, after the management committee meeting (to start at 9.30) – which any members may attend if they wish, but at which only members of the management committee may vote.
Place: nursery shed, Peacehaven
 All welcome.